Podcast Episode: Advocacy for Neurodiversity

This week we discuss all the ways that we can advocate for our neurodivergent friends, family members (and ourselves) at school, university, work and in social settings.

Podcast Episode: Fact or fake?
Neurotypical vs.
neurodivergent social communication styles

In this episode we pose a new theory that maybe our discussions on social interactions in neurodiversity are all backwards, could it be that the neurodivergents have got it right all along?

Access now!

ADVOCACY POSTERS

To go alongside our advocacy podcast episode we have created FREE posters for the school, workplace and university contexts. Found in the neurodiversity section of our free resources guide.
